From Registration . . .

. . . To Relaxation

Freshman Nancy Dehler of Battle Lake completes her first MSC registration form with aid from her advisor and the college catalogue.

Frosh Week
MSC - 1965

Welcome Week '65, held on campus September 13-17, served to acquaint over 1,000 freshmen with Moorhead State College.

Under the direction of Charles Kowalski, Donna Larson and Clayton Johnson, the 24 groups spent the week participating in a series of freshman assemblies, group meetings, appointments with advisors, exemption examinations and recreational activities, all of which culminated on Thursday when the new students registered for their first classes.

Nancy Dehler, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. William Dehler of Battle Lake, is typical of the class. Following a hectic week and the final agony of registration, Nancy was only too happy to relax with a magazine in her residence hall.

The Mistic feature on page 16 is devoted to Janna Aarestad, Fargo, as she goes through Welcome Week, from music auditions to registering and purchasing freshman textbooks.

Today is "B-Day" (Back to the Books) at Moorhead State for freshmen and upperclassmen as the college begins its 78th academic year.

Nancy enjoys a moment of relaxation in the lobby of the newly completed women's residence hall, following the rigors of registration.

State Board Approves
New Master's Programs

The first three programs for master's degrees in areas other than education were approved September 7 for Moorhead State College by the Minnesota State College Board.

The college has offered the Master of Science in Education degree since 1953 and was authorized by the state legislature in 1963 to develop master's programs in other areas.

The new master's programs include English for the Master of Arts degree, music for the Master of Music degree, biology for the Master of Science degree and guidance and counseling for the Master of Science in Education degree.

Dr. Maurice K. Townsend, academic dean, stated that the programs were approved by the faculty last May after evidence indicated there would be adequate faculty supervision, course depth and library resources in these areas.

"Entrance requirements will be high," he added, "and enrollment in each program will have to be restricted to make certain there is sufficient faculty supervision."

All of the master's programs, including the Master of Science in Education degree which has previously been offered, will require candidates to pass a comprehensive examination before they will be permitted to begin their research.

Mistic Distribution
Moved To Thursday

The Mistic will be distributed on Thursdays this year instead of Fridays as in the past so that it will reach more students before the weekend.

Since this will require some of the editors to work during the weekends, individuals and organizations who wish to publicize events are requested to have copy into the Mistic office on Fridays whenever possible. Copy cannot be accepted after Tuesday noon for publication the same week.

The next Mistics will be published on September 30 and October 7. Since the college will have a recess October 14 and 15, the paper scheduled for that week will be combined with the Homecoming issue of the following week and distributed on Tuesday, October 19. The usual copy deadlines will be in effect.

'Medieval Pageantry'
Homecoming '65 Theme

"Medieval Pageantry" has been chosen as the theme of the Moorhead State College Homecoming, 1965, according to co-chairman Vicki Littlefield and Larry McCrank.

Highlighting the week's activities will be the coronation of the 1965 Homecoming Queen, a concert by recording artist Glenn Yarbrough, a performance by the Cleveland Playhouse, a parade through downtown Moorhead, and the culmination of the events, the football game between MSC and St. Cloud State College, which will be followed by the Homecoming Dance.

Ruth Poels, 1964 Homecoming Queen, will pass on her crown to a new queen at coronation ceremonies on Wednesday evening, October 20 in Weld Hall Auditorium. An alumni king will also be crowned at this time. A special invitation has been extended to all former MSC Homecoming Queens to attend the coronation and the Queen's Reception in Dahl Hall, which will follow.

Glenn Yarbrough, former featured performer with the Limelighters, will appear on Thursday, October 21 at an 8:15 p.m. concert in Alex Nemzek Fieldhouse. Yarbrough's recording of "Baby, the Rain Must Fall," was recently rated number one in national record polls. Tickets for the concert will be available at Daveau's in Fargo and Moorhead or may be obtained by writing Box 544, Moorhead State College. Admission prices range from $1.50 to $3.00.

On Friday, October 22, the MSC Series for the Performing Arts will present the Cleveland Playhouse production of Chekhov's "Uncle Vanya." The Cleveland Playhouse will be returning to the Fargo-Moorhead area for the first time since their successful appearance in 1961, when they open the season's Series for the Performing Arts with the presentation to be held in Weld Hall Auditorium.

Saturday will be the high point in Homecoming week with pre-game features including the parade through downtown Moorhead at 10:00 a.m. and organization luncheons at noon.

At 2:00 p.m., the MSC Dragons will be challenged by the Huskies from St. Cloud State in the Homecoming game at Alex Nemzek Field. A Homecoming Dance at 9:00 p.m. will conclude the week's activities.

Alumni are invited to visit MSC during Homecoming activities to review the changes and growth of the college in recent years.

With an expected fall quarter enrollment of 3,360, MSC is expected to have some 5,500 students in attendance in 1970, with a projected rise to 6,350 by 1975.

Alumni will also be given an opportunity to see the newly constructed dormitory and the beginning of the fine art building, which represents, the first step in a building program which will amount to approximately $5¼ million dollars in the next two years.

Buildings and equipment on the 100-acre campus are valued at $14 million dollars at the present time, compared with $4½ million dollars on a 30-acre campus ten years ago. Nearly $11 million dollars has been spent on construction and improvements in the past eight years.

Enrollment Estimates
Predict New High

The 1965 enrollment at Moorhead State College is expected to be more than 3,360; a figure which includes 1,050 freshmen and 150 transfer students. This is an increase of nearly 500 from a year ago.

Five years ago, in 1960, total enrollment at MSC was 1,555, including 476 freshmen and 137 transfer students.

Construction began last week on MSC's $1.3 million high rise dormitory. Designed by Foss, Engelstad and Foss of Moorhead, the 12-story structure will accommodate approximately 400 students. (See story page 4.) — Photo courtesy Red River Scene.

WELCOME, FROSH!

Moorhead State College this week opens its doors to another record enrollment. Big news? Not really — practically every college in the nation is experiencing the same expansion explosion that's occurring at MSC.

The general population uprising of the '40's has crowded the college classrooms. But is today's MSC freshman here because of the general excellence of the total school operation? Has today's freshman evaluated the school and put himself in the school picture? If he has considered these, then his choice of MSC speaks well. If he has only fallen into MSC, then congratulations and welcome to one of the finest liberal arts institutions in the area.

Right now, you're probably a bit "confused;" but we trust you're also a bit "enthused." Keep in mind throughout the first struggling days that approximately 2,000 "old veterans" of at least one year at MSC, all shared the same confusion as "green frosh."

To the freshman we offer only two small bits of advice:

1) — Join something . . . Your friends, parents, aunts and probably your advisor have discouraged you from joining anything that may keep you away from "booking." As shocking as it may be to them, you're going to have some free time and it might as well be used constructively in an intellectual discussion at an International Relations Club meeting, a night at Bridge or Chess Club might do something for your shy personality, even the remote possibility of meeting new people; or a few hours off working on the Mistic or a Weld Hall drama production might even find you a lifetime profession.

Our only stipulation — don't join them all!

2) — Don't enroll for English or Humanities classes from Dr. Staff — he's faculty orientated and dislikes students.

77 Year MSC History Reveals Many Changes

Moorhead State College originated as Moorhead Normal School under the authorization of the Minnesota State Legislature in 1885. State Senator Solomon G. Comstock, who later served as a Resident Director and is known as "Father of the College," donated six acres of land for the school.

In 1887, construction began on the first building, "Old Main," at a cost of $60,000. Over its main entrance were three arches, which have now become the symbol of the college. The first class enrolled in August, 1888, and the first graduation ceremonies were held for eight students in 1890.

The first president of the school, Dr. Livingston C. Lord, served for ten years, during which time the school expanded its enrollment, curriculum and faculty.

In 1893, a residence hall was built for women on campus. First known as the Normal Home, its name was later changed to Wheeler Hall in honor of its first preceptress.

Building facilities expanded rapidly. A gymnasium and assembly room were added to Old Main in 1901, and in 1908, a model school was constructed for student teachers. Moorhead Normal was the first of the state schools to establish a laboratory school.

Since the main purpose of the school was to train teachers for elementary schools, women dominated the campus and in 1910, another women's residence hall, Comstock Hall was built.

Dr. Frank A. Weld served as president of Moorhead Normal beginning in 1899. Under his promotion, the first campus newspaper was started and interest in drama and music increased. In 1915, Weld Hall was constructed on the additional twelve acres acquired in 1912, completing the basic pattern of the circle.

In 1921, the State Legislature redesignated the Normal Schools as State Teachers Colleges and authorized them to award the Bachelor of Science degree.

With the burning of Old Main in 1930, the advancement in purposes and curriculum seemed, to all observers, to have come to an unfortunate end. The library and its 20,000 volumes were destroyed, along with all the documents in the Registrar's office. But classes were able to resume within a week, and in 1931, the State Legislature appropriated $800,000 for the construction of a three-story main building, a heating plant, a physical education building, and a laboratory school, all completed in 1932. The main building was built on the site of Old Main and called MacLean Hall, after President Ray B. MacLean.

During World War II the college served as a training detachment for the 346th Army Air Force Division from 1943-1944. Over 1,650 aircrew men were trained, and 21 of the regular faculty members helped administer the program.

After the war, President O. W. Snarr promoted a strong academic program. General education courses were introduced, and the college became a member of the North Central Association of Colleges and Secondary Schools. In 1946, the college was authorized to award the Bachelor of Arts degree.

In 1949, the first dormitory expressly for men was built and named after Caswell A. Ballard, science instructor for 38 years.

The addition of a graduate program leading to the Master of Science in Education degree was approved in 1953.

During the three-year administration of Dr. A. L. Knoblauch, 1955-1958, Weld Hall addition and Dahl Hall were completed, and appropriations were obtained for construction of a fieldhouse, stadium and physical education building, power plant, library and audio-visual center, and for Welcome!

Welcome Freshmen!

We are glad that you have chosen Moorhead State College for your higher education, and we are confident your years here will be rewarding if you take advantage of the many opportunities — intellectual, cultural and social — that are available to you.

President Neumaier

The college has experienced unprecedented growth in recent years, and we will probably have an enrollment of more than 5,000 by the time you graduate. Nevertheless, we don't want to 'lose you in a crowd'. Your academic needs have first priority, and the faculty members, administrators and other staff members are here to help you meet these needs. The college is becoming large, but, hopefully, not impersonal. Most students encounter a certain amount of confusion as they begin college life, but there are a great many people here who will help you, if you will let them know your problems.

The college years that lie ahead can be among the most enjoyable of your life as you discover new ideas and interests through new friends, in the classroom, the library, in the concert hall and on the stage. We know you can prepare here for a professional career and that you can acquire at this institution the intellectual maturity, tolerance and curiosity that may make your life richer and more satisfying than it might have been otherwise.

Again, welcome — and Best Wishes!

John J. Neumaier,
President

College Accepted As Advisor To American School In Somalia

Moorhead State College is one of six institutions of higher education selected from among 120 U. S. colleges and universities under a Department of State project to serve as advisor to an American overseas school.

The college will act as advisor to an American school in Mogadiscio, capital of Somalia, a community of about 70,000. The project, which will link six American overseas schools with six institutions in the U. S., is being administered by the American Association for Teacher Education. One hundred and twenty universities applied for participation in the project.

Dr. Herbert J. Abraham, professor of education at Moorhead State College and a specialist in the areas of comparative education and education for international understanding, has been appointed project director. He will visit the Mogadiscio school for three weeks in September to confer with the principal and staff members and to lay the basis for the cooperation program.

Dr. Abraham was formerly chief of the Division of Education for International Understanding of the United Nations Education, Scientific and Cultural Organization (UNESCO). Serving as co-director of the project will be his wife, Jo Abraham, a teacher in the Moorhead State College Campus Laboratory School and former principal of the American School in Paris, France.

Leadership in the improvement of general education and professional preparation of teachers, interest of the faculty in the enrichment of the school curriculums and the experimental work of the Campus Laboratory School were among qualifications cited in Moorhead's State's successful application.

The school in Mogadiscio is one of many which have been established overseas to give an American type education to children of Americans stationed abroad as government officials and officers of business corporations.

"These schools make an important contribution to the morale of overseas Americans who are anxious lest their children suffer educationally as a result of being away from home for a number of years," Dr. Abraham pointed out. "Although privately established under a committee of local parents, some of the schools receive government assistance for the construction of buildings and recruitment of teachers. The schools welcome pupils of other nationalities."

The new project is designed to furnish support services to certain schools in isolated communities. The support services which Moorhead State College will provide for the school in Mogadiscio will include a curriculum survey and suggestions for revisions. The college will also aid in obtaining books, audio-visual equipment and other teaching aids, and may recruit staff for the school and provide further training for present staff members.

Moorhead State College will receive a grant of $2,000 for use in aiding the affiliated school. Dr. Abraham said the project has been established initially for one year, but it may be extended.

Alumni Association Renews Graduate Interest In College

Graduates of Moorhead State College may continue an active interest in the college through the organization known as the Alumni Association. Incorporated in 1929, the Alumni Association is administered by a nine-member Board of Directors and a president. Each July, at an annual meeting and banquet, three new members of the Board and a new president are elected.

Current president is Howard Jacobson, Moorhead. New board members include Allan Holmes, James O. Haarstad, Mrs. David Deich and Donald Pate. Hold over directors are Mrs. Steve Pezella, John Ingersoll, Marco Gotta, Mrs. T. E. Smith and Mrs. Thomas Manley.

Services of the Alumni Association, at present conducted by the Office of Field Services under the direction of Dr. Harry A. Marmion, include the issuance of a quarterly bulletin, Report to the Alumni, and periodic mailings of other items of interest to current and former students. The association also sponsors an insurance program for college seniors and members of the Alumni Association, and an Alumni Tour to a different part of the world each summer.

Any individual who has been or is affiliated with Moorhead State College may become a dues-paying member of the Alumni Association, and any individual who has registered for and completed a course at Moorhead State College is considered to be an alumnus or an alumna. Membership dues are $3 per year, with the membership running from September 1 through the following August 31. Joint membership, if both husband and wife are alumni, is $5 per year. Life membership in the Association is $100.

The Association maintains several funds, including the Alumni Association Scholarship Fund, the Alumni Endowed Scholarship Fund, the Alumni Loan Fund, and the Student Center Fund. Contributions to any and all of these funds are welcome at any time.

The Office of Field Services also maintains an up-to-date mailing list of all alumni of record, which currently contains approximately 7,000 names. Former students are urged to send notices of any change of address, and to provide information concerning other former students. All inquiries and contributions should be addressed to MSC ALUMNI ASSOCIATION, Moorhead State College, Moorhead, Minnesota. News items of interest to former students, such as marriages, births, and changes of employment, may be sent to the same address for use in the Report to the Alumni.

College Fine Arts Series Schedule Cultural Events

Among the regularly scheduled on-campus activities of Moorhead State College, one of the most important to the college and to the community as well, is the Series for the Performing Arts. The MSC Series for the Performing Arts will present a program which is both diversified and select, classical and contemporary, when it launches its concert schedule for the 1965-66 season.

Moorhead State College seeks to introduce new artistic talent to the concert-goers of Moorhead and Fargo; in several instances, artists have performed here shortly before reaching the peak of their fame and distinction.

The series will begin on October 22, with the Cleveland Playhouse production of Chekhov's "Uncle Vanya." Celebrating its Fiftieth Anniversary this year, the Cleveland Playhouse first appeared in this area in 1961.

Charles Rosen, pianist, will appear in concert on November 8. A former professor of humanities at MIT, Mr. Rosen has been described as being "without peer as an interpreter of the great romantic and modern piano literature."

The Finnish baritone, Tom Krause, has scheduled a concert at MSC on December 1. Recognized as one of the great singers of his generation, he has appeared at Convent Gardens and Glyndebourne, and this season, he will make his debut at the Metropolitan Opera.

St. Valentine's Day will be observed on campus with a performance by the Royal Winnipeg Ballet, under the direction of Arnold Spohr. Time has described this group as "well disciplined and versatile . . . a ballet company notable for youth, boldness and exuberance . . . a corps de ballet of unusual wit, dramatic sense and precision."

The Vienna Choir Boys will be making their third appearance on the MSC campus on February 22. Full of charm and musicianship, the San Francisco Chronicle called them "charming, impressive and worthwhile."

March 12 will mark the appearance of the Robert De Cormier Folk Singers. An exuberant change of pace, the Folk Singers have been greeted with accolades wherever they have performed.

The New York String Sextet will perform on May 4. Hailed as one of the best chamber groups in the country, each member of the sextet is a professional soloist in his own right.

The Fourth Annual Regional Artists Recital will be held at a date as yet to be announced in April or May. Designed to foster the performance of serious music and to encourage young musicians in a career of public performance, the Artists Recital has presented such outstanding young artists

Fieldhouse. All performances begin at 8:15 p.m. Moorhead State College students may purchase tickets for the concerts at a reduced student admission of $.50 with an activity card.

In addition to the Series for the Performing Arts at MSC, Concordia College and North Dakota State University will also present some outstanding concerts by famous artists during the coming year.

Director Carl Narveson has announced that Concordia College will feature the following concerts during the school year:

The Minneapolis Symphony Orchestra, under the direction of Stanislaw Skrowaczewski, October 24; Robert Anderson, organist, November 7; Ingrid Bjoner, soprano, December 3; Richard Syracuse, pianist, January 17; the Norwegian Festival Orchestra, Oivind Fjelstad, conductor, with Robert Reishing, pianist, February 2.

Concordia endeavors to choose artists who best represent the principles of the fine arts, resulting in the presentation of established artists, generally in a classical tradition.

as Dwayne Jorgenson, baritone, and Nancy Harris, pianist, in previous years.

The concerts for the Series for the Performing Arts will be held in Weld Hall Auditorium, with the exception of the Vienna Choir Boys' performance, which will be held in Nemzek

North Dakota State University, whose fine arts series is directed by Mr. Frederick Walsh, will also present an outstanding selection of fine arts presentations to the residents of Fargo and Moorhead. NDSU aims at presenting as varied a cultural program as possible, drawing more heavily on dramatic performances than other forms of the fine arts.

NDSU will present the following: "The Subject Was Roses," starring Dennis O'Keefe, Betty Field and Peter Duryea; Igor Oistrakh, violinist, November 23; Carlos Montoya, flamenco guitarist, January 12; "The George Bernard Shaw Story," with Bramwell Fletcher, February 16; and Errol Garner, jazz pianist, March 25.

Providing educational value for the students and cultural experience for the community, the fine arts series of Moorhead State College, North Dakota State University and Concordia College will continue to effect Fargo and Moorhead in increasingly beneficial ways.

Popular Vienna Boys Choir will make their third appearance here February 22.

MSC Student Senate Governs Campus Activities, Events

Student participation in the direction of Moorhead State College and its student affairs is insured by the Student Senate, an organization serving as an effective liaison between the student body as a whole and the college faculty and administration, in their joint implementation of the purposes and function of the college.

Student Senate members and officers are elected by the student body. Current senators are: President, Dave Carlson, Parkers Prairie; Vice-President, Richard Cochran, Park Rapids; Secretary, Virginia Richter, Moorhead; Treasurer, Bill Newton, Ashby; Business Senator, Mel D. Krohn, Fargo, N.D.; Music Senator, Dave Brath, Mahanomen; Education Senator, Bruce Gilbertson, Thief River Falls; General Arts Senator, Timothy Warner, Johnstown, Pa.; Creative Arts Senator, Richard Dutcheck, Glenwood; Natural Sciences Senator, James Benedict, Osakis; Physical Education Senator, Neil Starks, Grandville Michigan; Social Sciences Senator, Tom Meinhover, Perham, and Speech-Theatre Senator, Clayton Johnson, Kennedy. Senators-at-large include Viki Littlefield, Fargo; Dan Carlson, Parkers Prairie; Jane Parker, Detroit Lakes; Cheryle Merkens, Lockhart; Jeff Burrill, Moorhead; and Elaine Johnson, Ada.

The Senate sponsors major all-college events such as Welcome Week, Homecoming, all college dances, special teas, receptions, and some of the all-college convocations and student assemblies.

With the assistance of the Council on Student Affairs and the Student Faculty Budget Committee, the Senate is responsible for administering the budget of the student activity fund and shares in the control of expenditures for student activities and projects.

The Council on Student Affairs, composed of faculty and administrative staff members and students, is responsible for interpreting college policy to the Student Senate and to the student body. It also cooperates with the Senate in planning its yearly program. The Council seeks to promote activities that will contribute to the educational program of the college, serve the interests of the college and the student body, and provide for the welfare of the individual student.

Prior to adopting the Student Senate form of government last year, Moorhead State College employed a Student Commission to act as coordinator between the administration and student body. Revision of the constitution for the new senate form of government was handled by a Constitution Revision Committee. The new constitution was approved by student body vote on January 19.

Building Program Includes Circular High-Rise Dorm

Ground was broken here recently for the 12-story circular residence hall which will be the tallest building in Moorhead or Fargo and will house at least 400 students when it is completed next fall.

The building will cost an estimated $1,367,000 and the low bidder on the general construction contract at $953,850 was Meinecke-Johnson of Moorhead.

Students will be housed 40 per floor on 10 floors and there will be a first floor and top floor for related dormitory services. The building has been designed in a circular shape to make maximum utilization of space on each floor, and it will be linked with the 200 bed dormitory completed this fall in the area east of Dahl hall.

The new high-rise residence hall is one of several construction projects totaling $5,241,000 which are currently underway or in advanced planning stages.

Construction began last spring on a new $1,620,000 Fine Arts building which will provide facilities for art, music, speech and theatre and will include a 900 seat auditorium with complete seat arrangements.

New facilities for special education were completed this summer when the old heating plant east of Flora Frick Hall was remodeled at a cost of about $95,000. In addition to special education, the building also has facilities for speech therapy and a reading clinic.

Other projects authorized and in planning stages include the following:

Student Union: Preliminary plans have been approved and final plans are now being prepared for this building which will cost an estimated $632,000. Located at the southwest corner of 6th avenue and 14th street, the Union will include lounges, student government and conference rooms, a ballroom, a snack dining room, bowling alleys, billiard room, game rooms and offices. Completion is scheduled for the fall of 1966, financed through a student fee assessment.

Food Service Addition: This addition, costing an estimated $317,000 will be attached to the north side of the present dining facility, Kise Commons. The addition will include two main dining rooms with a capacity of 350 and one conference dining room.

Weld Hall Remodeling: An architect is now completing preliminary plans for the remodeling of Weld

Hall into a centralized college administration building. Work on the $333,000 project will start when the music, speech and dramatics departments, which are currently housed in the building, can move into the new fine arts building.

MacLean Hall Remodeling: When the college administration offices are re-located in Weld Hall, MacLean hall will be remodeled for use as a classroom and faculty office building. A start on this $375,000 project is anticipated in the spring of 1967.

Classroom Building: The 1965 legislature authorized construction of a classroom building for the departments of business, mathematics, psychology, geography-geology and philosophy. This building, which will cost an estimated $1,044,000, is planned for the west end of the campus and will be connected to MacLean Hall. Construction will probably start in the summer of 1966 with completion about one year later.

Maintenance Building: Following the recent conversion of the old heating plant and maintenance building into a Center for Special Education, the college has been without vehicle storage space and has only inadequate facilities for maintenance shops. The 1965 legislature authorized $150,000 for a new maintenance building and a construction start is anticipated next spring.

Musical Groups Offer Expansion Of Talents

Music plays an important role at MSC, with major degrees offered in five areas, in addition to the recently approved Master of Music degree which will be available for the first time this year. Students may major in wind instrument, string instruments, piano, voice and broad music.

Several organizations connected with the department provide the main feature.

The Moorhead State College Concert Choir, under the direction of Mr. Earnest Harris, is a select group of 50 voices. The choir presents an annual concert which includes works by Bach, Brahms, Pulenc and other great composers. Following the annual spring concert held on the campus, the choir tours several high schools in Minnesota, presenting concerts similar to the one held at the college.

The Varsity Choir, another musical opportunity for vocally inclined students at MSC, is directed by Mr. Dwayne Jorgenson. In a past concert, the choir presented one of Haydn's Masses.

Mr. Jorgenson also directs the "Madrigal Singers," a group of sixteen voices which sings music of the sixteenth century. The Madrigals perform for organizations on campus and around the area.

Opera at MSC, having started during the second summer session with the production of "The Lowland Sea," is scheduled to continue during the academic year. Mr. Jorgenson will also be in charge of this, presenting productions in connection with a special class in opera which will be offered.

The Moorhead State College Orchestra became a reality in 1965, under the direction of Dr. Richard Fischer. The orchestra performed "Symphony Number 5," by Schubert, at their first concert in March.

The Euterpe Singers, directed by Dr. Maude Wenck, present two annual nual concerts at MSC; a formal Christmas concert, and an Easter Concert. The group also makes an annual tour to area high schools. Participants in this organization may take a one-credit activity course for singing in the Euterpe group.

Football games and Homecoming festivities are the first of the fall quarter activities of the marching band. During the winter quarter, the "pep" band gives support and entertainment for basketball games. The concert band, under the direction of Mr. Arthur Nix, gives a concert each quarter, in addition to participating in numerous other school and community activities. During the college break between winter and spring quarters, the band makes an annual tour.

Stemming from the Concert Band are the Brass Choir, the Clarinet Choir, the Saxophone Quartet, two stage bands, and various other ensembles.

Tau Chi Mu is a music club which serves as a service organization for musical events held on-campus, and assists with these events in any way possible. Under the leadership of Dr. Maude Wenck, Tau Chi Mu is open to all music majors and minors.

Two professional music fraternities, Sigma Alpha Iota and Phi Mu Alpha Sinfonia, are also part of the music-affiliated activities of MSC.

Two Pass History Exemption Exam

Two freshmen passed the history exemption examination this year and will receive 12 credits and are excused from the general studies requirements in the social sciences.

They are: Brian Anderson, a graduate of Stillwater high school and Bruce J. Burke, a graduate of Breckenridge high school.

MSC orchestra is newest campus musical organization.

Dormitories Meet High Standards

Moorhead State College provides modern residence halls which meet the highest standard of college housing. The residence halls are planned around units of floor living in which groups of 25 to 30 students share common facilities such as bathrooms, lounges and study rooms. Each residence hall has a main lounge and reception rooms, a mailbox for each resident, and numerous additional facilities, such as automatic washing machines and dryers, hobby rooms, and game rooms. Draperies, blankets, mattress pads, pillows and lamps are furnished by the college. Students furnish linens, towels, and personal or decorative items.

Each residence hall is under the direction of a Head Resident whose experience and personal qualifications include interest in young people and an understanding of the needs and problems of college-age men and women. The Head Residents are assisted by student residence counselors assigned to each floor unit. The Residents and counselors are in turn supervised by the Office of Student Personnel Services.

Each residence hall operates under a constitution that provides for a system of student government to plan and direct the various social and recreational activities. This student government provides an opportunity to develop and maintain the standards and regulations under which each residence hall operates.

Dahl Hall, which accommodates 300 women residents, was opened in the fall of 1958. A new women's hall, accommodating 200 students, will be occupied in the fall of 1965. Due for completion in 1966 is a 12-story residence hall which will house 400 women.

Ballard Hall, opened in 1950, accommodates 200 men residents in a choice of single or double rooms. Snarr Hall, opened in 1963, houses 300 men.

Students Assume Responsibility For Three MSC Publications

Students at Moorhead State College are responsible for three campus publications, The Moorhead State Mistic, The Dragon and Convivio, all of which are supported through a portion of the activity fee funds.

The Mistic, student newspaper, is published weekly except during holidays and final examination periods. A circulation in excess of 3,500 is anticipated this year with free distribution to all students and faculty members.

Providing news coverage of campus events, The Mistic offers a one-credit course in journalism (which may be taken as an activity) for students serving as reporters or staff members.

The editorial staff of The Mistic changes each quarter. Roger Bailey of Bertha was re-appointed editor for the fall quarter after serving as editor since last winter quarter. Sharon Sundre of Ulen will be managing editor and John Stone of Alexandria, business manager.

Mr. Roger Hamilton, director of development and public relations at MSC, has been advisor to The Mistic and will continue in this capacity temporarily until Mr. Richard Schreiber, a new full-time journalism instructor, assumes this responsibility.

The Mistic is a member of the Associated Collegiate Press with offices in MacLean 208.

The Dragon, college yearbook, is published and distributed during spring quarter each year. The yearbook provides a pictorial resume of college activities of the year and includes individual pictures of students and faculty members.

The yearbook is organized by the editor, and pages are laid out, written, proofread and edited by the students. A one-credit course in journalism is also offered for work on The Dragon.

Ruth Sheldon of Mapleton, N.D. will serve as editor of the 1966 Dragon, and Mr. Schrieber will be the faculty advisor. The Dragon office is also located in MacLean 208.

Roger Swenson of Moorhead is chief photographer for both The Dragon and The Mistic.

Convivio, Moorhead State's literary magazine, made its initial appearance in May, 1963. Succeeding Literary Designs, Convivio features contributions by both students and faculty members. Selections include poetry and prose, as well as critical and scientific articles, essays and plays.

Dr. Roland Dille, associate professor of English, is faculty advisor for Convivio.

Students interested in working on any of these student publications are urged to contact the editors or advisors.

"Birth Of A Nation" First Movie In Fine Film Series

In connection with Audio-Visual 250, Film Form, the Fine Film Series at Moorhead State College will present four special films during fall quarter. The course, presenting an introduction to film literacy, and also giving instruction in elementary film aesthetics and a brief history of the films, will meet three days per week.

Included in the schedule of films to be shown are "Birth of a Nation" on October 4; "Golden Age of Comedy" on October 7; "Calgary" on October 18 and "Grapes of Wrath" on December 2.

The films will be shown at 3:00 p.m. in Livingston Lord Library Auditorium. Presentation dates are subject to change by one or two days in connection with the progression of the course.

During winter quarter, five films have been selected for showing at MSC; "Rosemary" on January 14; "Devil in the Flesh" on January 28; "Breathless" on February 18; and "Time in the Sun" and "Sergei Eisenstein" on March 11.

Showings during winter quarter will be at 7:30 p.m. the location has not as yet been selected.

No announcement has been made as to film selections for spring quarter.

The Fine Film Series is directed by Dr. Peter Dart, who will also teach the course in Film Form.

Campus Radio Station Provides Music, News

KMSC, Moorhead State College's student owned and operated radio station, will continue to broadcast daily from 12:00 noon to 12:00 midnight during the 1965-66 academic year as in previous years.

Located in the west basement of Ballard Hall, KMSC is under the direction of station manager Tom Meinhover. Dr. Allen Erickson is faculty advisor for the station.

KMSC presents a wide variety of musical selections, ranging from popular music artists and folk singers to jazz and classical presentation. From a record collection which numbers over 450 albums, KMSC chooses musical recordings which are heard in Kise Commons, Dahl Hall and Snarr Hall.

In addition to the musical selections, which take up the bulk of KMSC's air time, other station features include interviews, campus news features, special programs and public service announcements.

Each week during the regular school year, KMSC also chooses a

"KMSC Campus Co-ed of the Week," from girls living on-campus who have been nominated by the listening audience.

A one-credit activity course, Speech 12: Radiocraft, is available to KMSC announcers.

MSC Students Aided By Counseling Service

The problems which face a college student are numerous and varied. Even though another person cannot always say exactly what should or should not be done in a particular situation, a trained person who can look at a problem objectively does help to distinguish between the undesirable and that which is most likely to meet one's personal needs. Such guidance is provided by the Moorhead State College Counseling Services. Experienced and trained counselors assist students in pursuing satisfactory goals which follow proven courses of action.

The long range viewpoint of the Counseling Service goes beyond the immediate results, however important and vital as they are in an individual's life. Counseling takes the attitude that decisions made during student days will affect life in ten, twenty and even thirty years.

The Director of Counseling Services, Dr. Richard Y. Reed, is responsible for student counseling through the Office of Student Personnel Services. He assists individual students with academic, vocational, personal and social problems. In this office, tests of aptitude, interest, mental ability personality also may be administered. Results of such testing are interpreted to students, as a method for assisting them in determining their abilities and interests, and to aid them in the selection of areas of specialization for a realistic occupational choice.

Dr. Richard Y. Reed

Educational and occupational information also can be obtained from this office.

Counseling services are available without charge to all regularly enrolled students. Students may apply directly to the Director of Counseling Services or be referred to that office by a member of the faculty or by other Student Personnel Services, or, if their problems deal, primarily with matters of admission to the college, they may be directed to the Admissions Counselor in the Office of the Registrar.

In addition to Dr. Reed, other faculty members offering their counseling assistance include: Henry Dux, Dean of Students; Eileen Hume, Dean of Women; Dr. Werner E. Brand, Director of Placement; Floyd W. Brown, Admissions Counselor; Dr. Allen G. Erickson, Reading Specialist; Miss Evangeline Lindquist, of the Health Service, and all academic advisors.

Student Financial Aid Available From Loan Funds

Two types of loan funds, available to freshmen as well as upperclassmen, seek to provide for a variety of student financial needs. Through the National Defense Student Loan program and the United States Aid Funds, a student may borrow the major portion of his yearly expenses while attending college. Smaller amounts of money needed for a short period may be borrowed through the Emergency Loan Fund.

Serving as financial aids officer is David H. Anderson who began his duties here July 1. He earned his B. S. and M. A. degrees at the University of Minnesota and recently completed a graduate program in guidance and counseling at Boston University. From 1959-64 he was counselor at the Clear Lake, Iowa Community School.

Any full-time college student, graduate or undergraduate, who is a citizen of the United States, may apply for a National Defense Student Loan. Application blanks may be secured from high school principals or from the Financial Aids Office at Moorhead State College. Applications for National Defense Student Loans should be submitted, when possible, at least two to three months in advance of the period for which the loan is requested, or by July 1 if the applicant expects to enter college in September.

In addition to the loans which are available to MSC students, the college also participates in the Work-Study Program, a part of the Economic Opportunity Act of 1964. Under this program, qualified students are offered part-time employment on the campus or in the community. To qualify for this program, a student must provide evidence that he comes from a low income family. Generally aid of this type is one part of a package plan which usually includes a loan and may include a scholarship.

The college also offers some students an opportunity to work full-time during the summer months under the Work-Study Program.

Further information on any of the available loans, the Work-Study Program or other part-time college employment, may be obtained in MacLean 106, the Financial Aids Office.

Mr. David Anderson

Scholarships Awarded Annually To Students

A limited number of scholarships are available for entering freshmen, current students, and students transferring to Moorhead State College from Junior Colleges. The number of scholarships available, and the amounts awarded, vary from year to year.

The amount most frequently awarded to an individual is $100, which ordinarily covers tuition and fees for one quarter for a student who is a resident of Minnesota, or approximately the cost of one quarter's tuition alone for a student who is not a resident of Minnesota.

The largest number of scholarships usually are made available to entering freshmen. Each June, a Scholarship Recognition Banquet, established in 1960, is held on the campus. All freshmen scholarship recipients, their parents, and donors of the awards are invited to this annual event, at which prospective students have an opportunity to meet members of the faculty and to visit the campus.

Some scholarships are awarded directly by the donors, who select the recipients independently of the college. Upon request, the college provides these donors with pertinent information concerning students who have applied for admission, to assist in the selection of the winners.

The Financial Aids to Students Committee maintains a record of scholarships and winners, and administers such outside awards upon request. Among campus groups making such awards are the fraternities and sororities, the student residence councils, and departmental and student clubs and organizations. Among outside groups making such awards are Parent-Teacher Associations, a community-sponsored scholarship funds, service clubs, women's organizations, and local firms or businessmen.

An Honors Scholarship of special importance is provided annually by the Moorhead Central Lions Club, which awards six scholarships of $50 each to the highest ranking man and woman student in the freshman, sophomore, and junior classes to apply towards tuition and fees for the next quarter.

Parking Limited; Regulations Cited

Parking space is very limited in the vicinity of the college campus. Students who live in college residence halls have particular difficulty in finding parking space and have little need for an automobile. Furthermore, operating an automobile is a heavy financial responsibility and draws on funds which students and parents have earmarked for educational and living expenses.

For these reasons, operation of automobiles by students should be kept to a minimum.

All motor vehicles operated in the college area by students, faculty, or employees must be registered each year with the college and must display a college identification tag. Students may register their vehicles and obtain tags at registration time. A copy of the traffic and parking regulations will be issued at the time the vehicle is registered.

Failure to register a vehicle or violation of other traffic regulations will result in the assessment of a violation fee or in the impounding of the vehicle. For just cause, the college shall reserve the right to issue or revoke the privilege to operate a vehicle on the campus.

19 Have Doctor's Degrees

New Faculty Arrive From Europe, Argentina

A former Yugoslavian political refugee, a professor from France who has been teaching in Argentina and another who spent last year teaching under the new intensive language study program at the Goethe Institute in Munich, West Germany, are among 62 new faculty members who have joined the Moorhead State College faculty.

The faculty will number 190 this year, compared with 148 last year. 19 of the new people have earned doctor's degrees and several of them will complete their Ph. D. programs this year.

New administrators include an assistant to the president and a director of graduate studies, Dr. John J. Neumaier, president, has announced.

Dr. Abraham Kaufman, who has done advanced study in analytic philosophy, philosophy of education and educational theory at Harvard University where he earned his doctor's degree, will be director of graduate studies. He served last year as associate professor of English at Western Washington State College, Bellingham, Wash.

The new assistant to the president will be George W. Sorensen, who was assistant to the president of Hamline University, St. Paul from 1961-63, and spent last year completing course requirements for his doctor's degree in mass communications at the University of Iowa.

President Neumaier said that Noble Hendrix, who was dean of students at the University of Alabama from 1943-55 and at the University of Miami (Fla.) from 1955-65, will join the faculty January 1 as dean of student personnel services.

David H. Anderson, who recently completed a graduate program in guidance and counseling at Boston University, joined the faculty July 1 as financial aids officer with responsibilities for student loans, work programs and scholarships. He earned his B. S. and M. A. at the University of Minnesota.

Dr. John Jenkins, former director of special services, has been appointed acting administrative dean during the absence of Earl R. Herring who will be on sabbatical leave.

Dr. Veljko Lalich, who was a political refugee in Italy and France after serving in the Royal Yugoslavian Army from 1941-45, will be a new member of the history department. He has been a member for ten years of the department of Slavic studies at the University of Montreal where he earned his doctor's degree.

Dr. Rudolph Kaiser-Lenoir, who holds a degree from the Sorbonne in Paris and a doctor's degree from the University of Strasbourg, will be visiting professor of modern languages in a department which has doubled in size since last year. A noted music critic and lecturer on Baroque music, he has been teaching during the past year at the National University of Cuyo, San Luis, Argentina.

Dr. Walter Stotzer, who taught last year at the Goethe Institute where his classes included students from 42 countries speaking 24 different languages, is a former member of the Moorhead State College faculty, having taught German and Russian here from 1962-64. He earned his Ph. D.

at Friedrich-Schiller University, Jena, Germany, and has previously served as visiting professor in Moscow, Russia and later as master of Bloxham School in England after he became a refugee from East Germany.

A new program in opera and music writing will be included in the music department curriculum with the addition of Dr. Irwin Sonenfield, whose compositions have been presented at a number of midwest colleges and universities. He has been serving most recently as professor of music and chairman of the humanities committee at Milton College, Milton, Wis.

The department of natural sciences, which will have eight biologists this year with doctor's degrees, has added eight new faculty members, including Dr. William R. Alling, who earned his Ph. D. in theoretical physics at the University of Notre Dame and spent last year completing a research project and teaching at Notre Dame.

New department chairmen this year include Dr. Charles Magel in philosophy, Dr. Frank Kendrick in political science, Dr. John W. Koechel in psychology and Dr. James Murray for the new department of economics. Miss Lynn Turner will serve as acting head of women's physical education during the absence of Miss Mary Montgomery who will be on sabbatical leave.

Dr. Magel who is currently serving as president of the Minnesota Philosophical Society, has been a member of the faculty since 1962 and earned his Ph. D. at the University of Minnesota. Dr. Murray joined the faculty in the fall of 1964 after serving four years at the University of Denver, and Dr. Kendrick, who earned his Ph. D. at the University of Chicago, joined the faculty last year after serving most recently at Drury College, Springfield, Mo. Dr. Koechel will be acting chairman of psychology during the absence of Robert Solso who will be on sabbatical leave.

Other new faculty members, by departments, include the following:

ANTHROPOLOGY

Robert W. Keyser, whose special fields include social anthropology, North American Indians and primitive religion and archaeology, earned his B. A. and M. A. degrees at the University of Minnesota and has completed residence requirements there for his Ph. D.

Dr. Murray To Devote Full Time To Teaching

After 26 years in administration at Moorhead State College, Dr. Byron D. Murray will leave his position as director of graduate studies in September of this year to devote full time to teaching as professor of English, it was announced recently.

Coming to the college in 1926, Dr. Murray was named chairman of the English department in 1939, and served in that position until 1949 when he became director of the upper divisions. In this position he had charge of academic advisement for degree programs and directed scheduling and college registration procedures. In the early '50's he was general coordinator of "College Night," a unique plan for opening the college to adults of the area which later developed into the present extensive program of evening classes on campus.

He was appointed Director of Graduate Studies in 1957 when the summer enrollment of graduate students was 41, compared with 362 enrolled in the first summer session of 1965. Dr. Murray was chairman of accreditation committees and editor of the self-studies prepared for the North Central Association of Colleges and Secondary Schools in 1959 and 1962 when the college was given full accreditation on the master's level.

He has attended many conferences of state college and university directors concerned with graduate programs in the state, and was Moorhead State representative on the committee which designed the first program in the state colleges in 1952.

Dr. Murray has published a number of articles in magazines and is author of "Commonwealth of Americans," a study in intellectual history published in 1959 by Philosophical Library. He has appeared on the Concordia College lecture series and on the Moorhead State College "Challenge of Ideas" series. He is listed in Who's Who in the Midwest, Who's Who in American Education, and Dictionary of American Scholars. He has been a member of the Interfaculty Policies Committee of the State Colleges, president of the Moorhead chapter of the American Association of University Professors and president of the Moorhead Faculty Association. He is currently a member of the Faculty Senate.

For a number of years Dr. Murray was editorial writer on the staff of the Moorhead Daily News. He has served on a number of committees of the Moorhead Chamber of Commerce, was moderator and member of boards and committees of the First Congregational Church in Moorhead, and served a term on the Minnesota Congregational Conference Board. He is past president of the Moorhead Kiwanis Club, and is 1965 lieutenant-governor of the seventh division, Minnesota-Dakota district of Kiwanis International.

Dr. Byron D. Murray

Dr. and Mrs. Murray, who reside in Moorhead, are the parents of four children: Mrs. Norman Feay of Moorhead, Dr. Stanley N. Murray, associate professor of history at North Dakota State University; Lawrence G. Murray, who is with Marquette Manufacturing in Minneapolis; and Dr. Roger N. Murray, assistant professor of English at Wisconsin State University, Eau Claire.

MSC Health Service Offers Medical Aid

The Health Service, located on the campus at 706 South 16th Street, provides the full-time services of a registered nurse for all students, and arranges for the services of a physician when necessary. Students are requested to report any accident or illness to the college nurse as soon as possible.

Consultation service of physicians is available to students during established office hours.

Temporary infirmary care for all students is provided without cost, however students who do not live in one of the college residence halls are required to pay board during their stay in the infirmary. Upon physician's orders, students who are seriously ill are transferred to a local hospital.

An immunization program is also carried on throughout the college year.

Religious Organizations Offer Fellowship, Discussion, Study

Religion plays an important part in the activities of Moorhead State College, with seven religious organizations representing various faiths on campus. Throughout the year, these groups sponsor panel discussions, conferences and Bible studies, as well as participating in MSC activities and retreats.

The Epsilon chapter of GAMMA DELTA (Missouri Synod Lutheran) meets each Thursday evening for Bible study and Christian fellowship in Our Redeemer's Lutheran Church, which is two blocks north of Dahl Hall. Annual events for Gamma Delta include a regional convention, banquet and a spring camp.

An inter-denominational organization, INTER-VARSITY is a student group united in relating the Christian faith to every aspect of life. This is accomplished through individual and group Bible study, prayer, discussions, conference and lectures.

Lutheran students attending Moorhead State College find Christian fellowship through the LUTHERAN STUDENT FOUNDATION. Meeting in Luther Hall, the purpose of LSF is to provide opportunities for Christian witness, worship and self examination. The Thursday evening meetings include speakers, socials and service projects.

The Newman House, across the street from the college gates, is the center of activity for students in the NEWMAN FOUNDATION. Here Catholic students get together for regular meetings and to discuss topics pertinent to the college, as well as to have their social functions.

UNITED CAMPUS CHRISTIAN FELLOWSHIP was formed in 1963 when students from the Congregational, Presbyterian, Evangelical Reformed and Disciples of Christ Churches united to form one organization. UCCF welcomes all students who seek to strengthen and deepen their present Christian commitment.

The WESLEY FOUNDATION is designed to promote fellowship among Methodist students while they attend MSC. Weekly meetings, fire-side discussions and other activities are held by the group in Grace Methodist Church in Moorhead. This organization is affiliated with other student Methodist groups throughout Minnesota and attends joint conferences with them during the school year.

THE CANTERBURY CLUB, newest religious organization on campus, provides a rallying point and common meeting ground for students who are members of the Episcopal (or Anglican) Church, and for others who are interested in the church. The group's activities evolve from the interests of its member.

Representatives of the various campus religious organizations compose the Inter-Religious Council. Their purpose is to promote a feeling of kinship among different religious groups. To accomplish this aim, the IRC sponsors several convocations, movies and panel discussions each year. They also coordinate a Religious Emphasis Week, which is usually held during winter quarter, and arrange special convocations for Thanksgiving, Christmas and Easter.

A scene from the prize-winning hit, THE MIRACLE WORKER by William Gibson. The production was staged during winter quarter by the MSC Theatre Department.

Weld Hall In Final Year As Stage For MSC Theatre

A haunting folk legend based on the ballad of Barbara Allen, a colorful musical comedy set in ancient Rome, and a zany farce set in Renaissance Italy will headline the season of plays when the Moorhead State College Theatre goes into action for the 1965-66 school year. Other productions during the year will include an annual children's theatre production, a series of experimental one-acts, and several evenings of Readers' Theatre.

Dark of the Moon by William Berney and Howard Richardson will open the season on November 4, 5, and 6 in Weld Hall on the college campus. With the action set in the Smoky Mountains, the colorful blend of folk songs and legend tells the tale of a mountain girl named Barbara Allen and a witch boy who comes down from the mountains and brings disaster to a frightened village. A children's theatre production in December will complete the fall quarter production schedule.

The annual all-college musical which has been performed during the fall quarter for the past several years will be presented during the winter quarter this year in order to secure production rights to one of Broadway's newest musical successes, A Funny Thing Happened on the Way to the Forum. The prize winning musical by Stephen Sondheim and Bert Shevelove ran for over two years in

New York and recently won the Best Musical of the Year award in London. The Moorhead State College production of the musical will be one of the first non-professional productions in the country. A series of "avant garde" one-acts will be presented during the winter as well.

The Servant of Two Masters, a classic Italian farce, by Carlos Goldoni has been tentatively set as the main stage production during the spring quarter. The zany antics of a wily servant performed in the "commedia dell arts" tradition of the Italian theatre will highlight the spring quarter along with several evenings of Readers' Theatre. Under consideration for the evenings of readings are In White America and John Brown's Body.

All students registered at Moorhead State College are invited to try out for any of the productions presented by the MSC Theatre. No previous experience is necessary and because all of the productions chosen for the year are large cast shows, Dr. Delmar J. Hansen, director of the theatre, will welcome new and old faces at the try-out periods which will be announced quarterly. Enthusiasm and an interest in theatre are all that is needed to become a part of the college theatre program. Students interested in working on production crews are also welcome and should plan to attend try-out periods as well.

Ticket sales for the productions will also be announced prior to each production. Because the theatre program is supported by the Student Senate activities budget, all Moorhead State College students may purchase reserved seats for one week prior to the production at a special reservation fee of 50¢ per student upon presentation of an activities card.

Having only recently completed a ten-week summer theatre season on campus, the MSC Theatre season for 1965-66 promises to add many evenings of colorful entertainment to a cultural calendar for MSC students and faculty which includes a superior program in the Performing Arts series, a number of superb musical concerts by the Moorhead State College Department of Music, a Fine Film Series, a convocation series, and a number of major art shows under the auspices of the Department of Art.

Six Speakers Slated In New Convo Policy

A positive step toward solving the problem of Convocation attendance has been taken with the inauguration of a new scheduling policy, according to Dr. Roland Dille, Chairman of the Faculty Convocation Committee.

Convocations will continue to be held on Wednesday morning at 10:00 a.m., however the term "convocation" will only be applied to a total of six special programs, two of which will be held each quarter during the academic year. Other meetings of the student body will be known as student assemblies, and will also be held on Wednesday at 10:00 a.m. As in the past, all student assemblies and convocations will be held in Weld Hall Auditorium.

The first in the series of new Convocations will be held on October 13, when correspondent and best-selling author Robert St. John will discuss "This Challenging World." With up-to-date reports based on conversations with leaders, as well as ordinary people whose lives have been affected by the turn of events, St. John will discuss attitudes toward the U.S., democracy and chances for its success outside the U.S.

Representative Clark McGregor (R. 3rd District) has been tentatively scheduled to speak at the special Convocation which will be held on November 3 in connection with Political Emphasis Week, November 1-5.

Lionel Wiggam, described by the

New York World Telegram as "a Renaissance man," will deliver a lecture on "The Evolution of the American Woman - As Reflected in Her Poetry," at the Convocation to be held on January 26. Lecturer, poet, playwright and short story writer, Wiggam's topic presents a study of the American woman as poet.

On February 9, Stringfellow Barr, distinguished educator-historian, will speak on the subject "Let's Join the Human Race." A college president for two years, Barr is the author of the best-selling satire on academic life, "Purely Academic." Mr. Barr has lived and studied in Europe, and traveled in most of the continents of the world, which perspective largely shaped his interest in U.S. foreign policy.

Stephen Spender, poet, literary critic and co-editor of the review Encounter, will lecture on "The 1930's" on March 31. The lecture includes an account of the literary atmosphere in the 1930's: W. H. Auden at Oxford; Christopher Isherwood in Berlin; the influence of T. S. Eliot; the politics of anti-Fascism into which the intellectuals were drawn; Communism; and the Spanish Civil War.

Concluding the special series will be "Looking at Modern Art," an introduction and fresh approach to the controversial and varied productions of today, scheduled for presentation on April 13 by Richard McLanathan.

Placement Bureau Aids Graduate Employment

The Moorhead State College Placement Bureau, a bureau of recommendations rather than an employment service, assists students in locating appropriate positions in education, business, industry and government service. It offers a convenient and efficient means of providing employers with credentials of applicants. This recommendation and record service is available to all alumni as well as current graduates.

A registration fee of $6.00 per year is required for Placement Bureau service. An individual is entitled to recommendation service, forwarding of credentials to prospective employers, and other services, for one calendar year after the receipt of this fee. Upon the expiration of this period no service is provided until the payment of another $6.00 fee, which will again cover service for a period of one year dating from the receipt of the payment.

Every graduate is advised to have a permanent confidential file on record in the Placement Bureau. Current students who expect to graduate in either June or August are requested to activate their files by the preceding December. The fee must be paid prior to the sending of the first set of credentials to a prospective employer. Successful experience improves the possibilities of advancement, and the Bureau's many contacts enable a graduate to learn of opportunities he might not otherwise encounter. Graduates are therefore strongly advised to bring their records up to date each year. Payment of the annual fee is required to reactivate an individual's credentials in the Placement Bureau.

The Placement Bureau holds membership in the Minnesota Institutional Teacher Placement Association, the Midwest College Placement Association, and the Association for School, College, and University Staffing.

Director of Placement is Dr. Werner Brand.

The Livingston Lord Library building, dedicated in 1961, was named for the first president of the college. Centrally located on the campus, it includes exceptionally fine library facilities and one of the outstanding audio-visual centers in the upper mid-west. There is also an auditorium seating 216, which is used for large classes, public lectures, and film showings.

The library collections are shelved in readily accessible open stacks alongside the various reading rooms. Seating for four hundred students is available in the main reading room, and other rooms provide an additional 150 readers with facilities.

The library collection now totals approximately 60,000 volumes, with space available in the library to house over 100,000 volumes. A telethon, "Moorhead State College Presents," held April 25 over KXJB-TV, raised over $5,000 to be used in purchasing new library books.

In addition to the books, approximately six hundred periodicals are received regularly, and many local and national newspapers are available.

Microfilm and microcard readers are also available for the increasing collection of microfilm materials, and a Thermofax copier is provided for exact duplication of books and documents.

The listening room provides space for the present record collection, containing over 1,000 records, most of which are long-playing albums. There are four turntables in the listening room, each of which is equipped with an individual listening unit.

The library archives contain records of MSC since it began as a normal school in 1888. Also included in the archives are many old photographs, bulletins, newspapers and other items related to the history of the college.

The curriculum materials center, located on the second floor, provides the student majoring in some phase of education with information about developments in his chosen field. Approximately 2,600 sample textbooks are also available to the student, along with over 600 curriculum bulletins. A pamphlet file, paperback shelf and a reference section complete the resources of the "curriculum library."

The audio-visual center, on the main floor, provides classrooms for audio-visual courses and facilities for booking, previewing, producing, and servicing films, film strips, and other audio-visual instructional materials. The center maintains a film library, and prepares various kinds of materials and presentations for instructional use. Consultation services and assistance are provided for on-campus students and faculty, as well as teachers and administrators of the public schools in the area.

The study area of Livingston Lord Library provides students with room to work on research papers and themes while making use of the various indexes and reference sources which are available. In addition to a book collection totaling over 60,000 volumes, the library also contains an audio-visual center, a curriculum library, the college archives and a listening room with over 1,000 records. Conference units and a typing room are also available for student use.

Food Service Operated For Students, Faculty

Moorhead State College offers a complete cafeteria service to students and members of the faculty in Kise Commons, the food service building opened in 1963. All meals are provided for students who live in college residence halls, under the provisions of the room and board contracts. Off-campus students, faculty members, college visitors and guests are also invited to use the dining facilities.

Kise Commons includes a main dining room seating 400, three small conference dining rooms for private luncheons or dinners, and a snack bar.

According to Clint Stacy, cafeteria manager at MSC for Slater Food Services, a division of Automatic Retailers of America, during the college year, approximately 2,100 meals are served daily in Kise Commons; a total of 430,000 meals each year. During an average week, 680 loaves of bread, 700 pounds of roast beef, 523 pounds of steak, 100 pounds of potatoes, 350 dozen dinner rolls, 14 cases of assorted cereals and 780 gallons of milk are consumed by MSC students.

The 23 full-time employees and the part-time student workers in Kise Commons have a total annual payroll of $90,000, of which $16,000 is paid to approximately 60 students workers. Another 30 students work for their meals.

Students living on-campus at MSC are actually paying less for their food service than at any other state school in Minnesota. Student fees for meals are $405 per year, of which only $298 is turned over to the Slater Company. The food services building is owned by the state, which uses the remaining $107 for equipment replacement and maintenance in the cafeteria.

The Snack Bar, also located in Kise Commons, is a favorite meeting place for students. It makes about 700 sales per day, and is particularly busy during the summer sessions when most students are living off-campus.

An addition to the food service building, to be constructed on the north side of Kise Commons, is now being planned. This addition will include two main dining rooms and one conference dining room.

MSC student chooses lunch from cafeteria selection.

The serving schedule for meals in Kise Commons during the coming year is as follows:
MONDAY — FRIDAY	BREAKFAST	7:00 a.m. — 8:30 a.m.
	LUNCHEON	11:15 a.m. — 1:15 p.m.
	DINNER	4:45 p.m. — 6:15 p.m.
SATURDAY — SUNDAY	BREAKFAST	8:00 a.m. — 9:00 a.m.
	LUNCHEON	12:00 p.m. — 1:15 p.m.
	DINNER	5:00 p.m. — 6:15 p.m.
The Snack Bar will operate during the following hours:

Chart depicts budget allotments for 1964-65 school year.

Activity Fees Provide $100,000 Events Fund

“What happens to my activity fee? A question posed by many new freshmen and returning students alike.

The student activity fee, which amounted to over $100,000 in 1964-65, helped finance a variety of campus activities ranging from athletics to convocations.

The budget preparations begin with the requests by the various college sponsored activities, such as the Series for the Performing Arts, KMSC (campus radio), Homecoming and other social events.

Their requests are reviewed by the budget committee, which consists of the Student Senate executive officers and four faculty members appointed by the college president.

Following their review, the budget committee makes their recommendations to the Student Senate. The president of the college receives the Senate approved form of the budget, and following his signature, the budget is sent to the State College Board for final authorization.

The largest share of the activity fee is used to finance the inter-collegiate and intramural athletic programs. In 1964-65, 22.9% of the total budget allocation went to athletics.

Next highest of the ten divisions (see chart), is student publications, which includes the Mystic, the Dragon and Convivio.

The total expenditures equaled approximately 19% of the total budget. Student health services received approximately 13.1%, as did the entertainment fund, which includes the Series for the Performing Arts, convocations, campus radio, and the fine film series.

Fourteen Frosh Pass Chemistry Exemption

Fourteen freshmen have been exempted from taking Chemistry 102, Matter and Chemical Change, by virtue of having passed the chemistry exemption test which was given on Tuesday, September 14.

The fourteen freshmen, 50% of the 28 who were given the test, will be given the three credits available for chemistry 102, but will not be required to enroll for the course.

According to Dr. B. Spencer Meeks, professor of chemistry at MSC, the course in Chemistry 102 has the highest correlation between high school and college work of any of the classes offered in the three-course science sequence. For this reason, plans are under consideration for offering the exemption examination once more before the course is offered during winter quarter.

Literary activities (forensics and dramatics), and music activities (band, choir and small groups), received approximately 8.3% of the budget allocation.

Campus social events were allotted approximately 5.7% of the budget to finance such events as Homecoming and Snow Week.

The administrative fund finances the working of the student government body and receives approximately 4%.

Summer school activities received 4.6% to finance the Challenge of Ideas series, convocations social activities and the summer Series for the Performing Arts. Summer school students also pay an activity fee.

The special agency fund (1.7%) finances the Women's Recreation Associations and the pep club.

The benefits that can possibly be attained from contributing to the quarterly activity fee are numerous. Your quarterly activity fee quickly becomes part of a big business proposition of over $100,000 annually, all pooled to make you stay in college more interesting and enjoyable.

Bookstore Important Operation on Campus

The Moorhead State College Bookstore, located at the east end of MacLean Hall's first floor, sells textbooks, notebooks, paper, art supplies, and miscellaneous other items. Its operation is directed by the Bookstore Board, composed of students and faculty members elected by the student body and faculty, the Student Senate Advisor and the College Business Manager. Proceeds from the bookstore's operation are controlled by the Bookstore Board and the college administration, and any accumulated profits are used to purchase services and equipment for the college, provide scholarships for students, and promote purposeful all-college activities.

Greek Organizations Promote Campus Social Activities

Social life at Moorhead State College is enhanced by the fact that five social sororities and three social fraternities exist on campus, with three sororities and two fraternities having national status. Five professional fraternities for students in music, industrial arts and education are also available to interested students.

Each year, fraternities and sororities participate in many school affairs, including Homecoming, Greek Week, Songfest, and Snow Week. In addition, each organization holds an annual dinner dance, and fraternities sponsor a semi-formal dance each year.

Sororities and fraternities are governed on campus by the Inter-sorority Council and the Inter-fraternity Council, respectively.

ALPHA LAMBDA EPSILON is the newest social sorority at MSC, having been founded in 1962 by 11 charter members. The Greek letters of the sorority stand for altruism, leadership and equality.

ALPHA DELTA PI is the newest national sorority on campus. The Epsilon Alpha chapter is the one hundred and eighth chapter of ADPI, which is the oldest women's sorority in the world. Alpha Delta Pi was formerly Beta Chi, which was founded in 1932.

On November 23, 1963, the DELTA ZETA sorority became the first national social sorority to be established at MSC. Formerly known as Gamma Nu, the objectives of the sorority include uniting its members together in the bonds of sincere friendship and stimulating one another in the pursuit of knowledge.

The international sorority, GAMMA PHI BETA, was formerly Pi Mu Phi at MSC. On April 24, 1964, they became a chapter of Gamma Phi Beta. Founded on Halloween Eve, 1905, the “witches” still celebrate the birthday of their sorority with a Halloween party.

PSI DELTA KAPPA sorority was founded in 1931. The purpose of the group is to work toward the goals of perfection, democracy, and knowledge. Their aim is to create a closely knit group which works together.

The oldest fraternity on campus, the OLD ORDER OF OWLS, was organized in 1901. Since that time, almost eight hundred men have passed through the two degrees of initiation. Each fall, the Owls hold their traditional Autumn Ball and select a sweetheart.

SIGMA TAU GAMMA fraternity was organized for the purpose of promoting fraternal, campus, social and educational activities on the MSC campus. The fraternity holds an annual White Rose Ball, at which event their chapter sweetheart is selected, and sponsor the annual Sigma Tau Gamma Songfest, proceeds from which go into scholarships.

TAU KAPPA EPSILON, the world's largest social fraternity, has been represented by the Iota Epsilon chapter at MSC since 1962, when the former Kappa Nu Alpha fraternity became part of TKE. The highlight of each year's activities is the annual Sweetheart Ball in May.

PHI MU ALPHA SINFONIA is a national professional music brotherhood for men. Their main purpose is to forward the cause of music in America. The members present a concert of American music every spring in connection with this purpose.

The purpose of SIGMA ALPHA IOTA is to promote music throughout the world. A fraternity open to all women who major or minor in music and meet the scholastic standards of the organization, SAI presents an “All American” concert in cooperation with its brother fraternity, Phi Mu Alpha Sinfonia, each year.

The IOTA ALPHA is a professional fraternity of future industrial educators. Its objectives are to promote inter-department fraternity, scholarship and professional concepts.

KAPPA DELTA PI is an international honor society in education. Junior and senior members are chosen for their scholastic achievements, character and interest in promoting the field of education.

DELTA PHI DELTA is a national society for women continuing their education. The two purposes of this organization are to help women readjust themselves to academic life, and to act as a social organization.

Election to the professional fraternities is based upon scholarship, interest and achievement within the field of the fraternity. The social organizations “rush” new members several times each year.

Campus School Prepares MSC Student Teachers

The laboratory school at Moorhead State College is an important center for the preparation of teachers. Housed in its own building on the north boundary of the campus, it includes a kindergarten, an elementary school, and a secondary school. It offers the unique opportunity of 18 continuous years of education on a single campus, from kindergarten through a master's degree.

The Campus School is maintained to provide an opportunity for observation, demonstration, student teaching, experimentation, and research in elementary and secondary education.

Twenty-seven instructors, some of whom also serve in the college, form the educational staff of the Campus School. Mr. Vincent C. DiPasquale has served as Director of the Campus School since 1963.

MSC Meets Michigan Tech Saturday

MOORHEAD STATE DRAGONS: 1965 EDITION

The 1965 Northern Intercollegiate Conference football title derby starts in full swing this weekend as Moorhead State College journeys to Houghton, Michigan to meet the Michigan Tech Huskies in the season's NIC lid-lifter.

M-State draws youthful opposition in its first of the new season. The Huskies roster is stocked with an overflow crop of juniors and sophomores, and according to coach Bill Lucier, "anything green grows."

For Moorhead State, it will be an all-important contest as the Dragons strive to improve upon last year's NIC log of 4-1. Praised as having the strongest defensive unit in the league, MSC held Michigan Tech to a safety last fall, winning on a Jerry Hegna field goal, 3-2. MSC went on to place second in the NIC behind front-running Winona State.

Against the Huskies, Dragon coach Dwaine Hoberg is expected to start in the following manner: Ends—Lyle Vogt and Joe Bentz; Tackles—Dennis Yell and Alan Berglund; Guards—Lee Brennan and Doug Peterson; Center—Jim Benedict.

In the starting offensive backfield are quarterback Lee Fawbush; Halfbacks Sig Magnuson and Bob Brophy; Fullback—Bob Billberg.

On defense, the front wall for MSC contains Vogt, Bentz, Peterson, Neal Pipe, Sam Camasi and Arden Bargloff. In the defensive secondary are Dave Malcheski, Fawbush and Brophy. Dragon linebackers are Berglund and Bill.

The Dragons split even in their first two non-conference tilts of the young season, bowing before intercity rival Concordia 28-7 and dumping the University of Minnesota-Morris Cougars, last weekend.

In MSC's most recent clash, that with UMM, touchdowns by powerful fullback Bob Billberg and halfback Marv Walter lifted the Dragons to their first conquest of the year.

Varied IM Program Offered At M-State

Despite the emphasis placed on intercollegiate athletics at most colleges and universities around the country, the intramural athletic programs at the various institutions of higher education have the opportunity to serve the greatest number of people.

Moorhead State College is no exception. More people are able to participate in the various intramural activities than in organized intercollegiate competition.

Roy Domek, long-time basketball coach at Moorhead State, is serving as intramural director of the college, as well as instructing in the physical education department.

Not only are there numerous activities for men, but organized intramural competition is also scheduled for women. The various athletic activities for women consist of volleyball, basketball, swimming, track and others. MSC often joins college athletic events with nearby Concordia College and North Dakota State University.

First on the agenda for the men in the fall is flag football. Announcements of organizational meetings and scheduling will be forthcoming from Domek.

In the winter, basketball leagues are arranged and games are played in Nemzek Fieldhouse itself, as well as in the physical education gym. Champions in each league then compete in a tournament at the close of the regular season to name an over-all league champion. Traveling trophies are usually awarded to the champions.

Intramural wrestling is also scheduled for the winter, along with handball, volleyball and badminton.

Various fraternities, dormitories and organizations are awarded points during the course of the year and are rated at the end of the year to determine intramural over-all champions.

In the spring, track and softball contests are held at Nemzek Fieldhouse. As in other competition, sponsoring units are awarded team points for their showing.

During the course of the upcoming season, Domek is also expected to announce other competition. Bowling has often been proposed, but thus far interest has not been high enough to organize intramural bowling.

Nemzek Fieldhouse Offers Modern Facilities

Moorhead State College provides the finest facilities for physical education and athletics in the entire area. Alex Nemzek Fieldhouse, dedicated in 1960, includes an arena seating 4,000, together with an indoor track and several gymnasiums for wrestling, handball and other sports. The athletic plant includes a football stadium, baseball and practice fields, tennis courts and a hockey rink.

Nemzek Fieldhouse and its facilities are made available to civic organizations and community groups when events of wide public interest can be scheduled without conflicting with college events.

The huge athletic plant, located at the east end of the campus, is supplemented by a separate building for women's physical education. Flora Frick Hall, at the southwest corner of the campus, also contains the college swimming pool.

For Freshman Honor Student Janna

Math And Music Are Major Interests

BOOKS And More BOOKS

Loaded down with books, Janna Aarestad, one of 18 students who ranked number one in a Fargo Central High School class of 575 last year, began college classes here this week.

She is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Erwin Aarestad of Fargo, and was awarded a $700 scholarship by the Elks, having been state winner for girls in North Dakota last year, and a $200 scholarship by the MSC bookstore.

In addition to being a top-ranking student, Janna also served as editor of "Cynosure of the Air," concertmaster of the high school orchestra, member of the National Honor Society, National Forensic League, Quill and Scroll Journalism society and many more.

Welcome Week, 1965

Largest Freshman Class In History Enrolls Here

About 1,000 freshmen, the largest class in the history of the college, began a week long orientation program Sunday, Sept. 12 when they heard President John J. Neumaier urge them to take advantage of the educational, cultural and recreational opportunities available at MSC.

Freshmen and their parents filled Alex Nemzek Fieldhouse for an opening convocation which also included talks by Henry Dux, dean of students, and Dr. Maurice K. Townsend, academic dean. Charles Kowalski, a senior, served as master of ceremonies and also introduced Mrs. Eileen Hume, dean of women, and Dr. Richard Reed, director of guidance and counseling.

The convocation was the first in a series of informational and recreational activities designed to acquaint freshmen with college life.

In addition to the orientation activities of Welcome Week, many freshman also took exemption examinations from such classes as chemistry and history, and auditioned for places in various campus musical organizations.

Conferences with advisors, speech checks, various freshman mixers and dorm parties rounded out the week.

Freshman registration was held on Thursday, and a Talent Show was presented on Friday evening.

Student co-chairmen of Welcome Week were Donna Larson of Breckenridge and Clatyon Johnson of Kennedy with Charles Kowalski of Moorhead, a student co-chairman last year, serving as advisor.

Upperclass counselors who assisted in the orientation program are as follows:

Ruth Poels, Sue Jorgenson, Michele Grier, Virginia Richter, Janet Jenkins, Judy Kotte, Sue Synder, Cheryl Landsom, Jeff Burrill, Wayne McFarland, John Ingersoll, Bob Seigel, Wayne Ingersoll, Curt Gudmunson, Steve Poitras, Dennis Heiberg, Terry Langager, Tom Addicott, Larry Peterson and Paul Thorwaldson, all of Moorhead; Mary Gainor, Vicki Littlefield and Janet Skaff, all of Fargo.

Diane Bergeson, Lynn Gronbeck and Kaye Hegreness, all of Twin Valley; Kathy Schultz, Larry Scott, John Schwanke and Roger Schultz, all of Alexandria; Bob Clay and Beth Pemberton, both of Hallock; Mary Sue Pagnac, Stephen, Sharon Boyum, Detroit Lakes; Marjorie Frazee, Pelican Rapids; Cheryl Merckens, Lockhart; Barbara Chetirko, Flushing, N.Y.; Elaine Johnson, Ada; Pam Hagen, Crookston; Jeanne Johnson, Horace, N.D.; Jean Wilson, Foxhome; Neil Starks, Grandville, Michigan; Peter Perreten, Nelson; Tom Meinhover, Perham; David Braseth, Mahanomen; Douglas Johnson, Marietta; Tim Warner, Johnstown, Pa.; and Mike Johnson, Wheaton.

Concertmaster of her high school orchestra, Janna will continue violin study here under Dr. Richard Fischer, director of the college concert orchestra.

Currently interested in a mathematics major, Janna checks her registration cards with Mr. Derald Rothman of the mathematics department, her advisor.
